

MEIN KOMA

Video animation, 2013, 5'18", edition of 5 + 2AP.

A 13-year-old Croatian girl fell into a coma and woke up speaking fluent German.

Since her waking up from her 24-hours coma, the young teenager could not speak Croatian, but she could communicate perfectly in German.

The girl, from the southern town of Knin, had only just started studying German at school and had been reading German books and watching German Tv to become better, but was by no means fluent, according to her parents.

A marvellous secret is hidden in the labyrinth of our mind and it reveals the endless potentialities of human Beings.

This true story has inspired me so much to imagine the teenager's journey during her coma.
